DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 12, the recitation of a "cold zone" is vague and confusing. There is recited no structure for defining such a zone. Is this zone defined by its distance from the heater or by a structure which cools the heat transfer fluid?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 5-8, 12 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ancona et al.

There is disclosed in Ancona a cooker apparatus, comprising: a drum 16; at least one food receiving pocket (internal chamber) associated with the drum, the pocket being configured for cooking food product in a heating liquid, the pocket having at least one open end (top opening); cover means 64 for covering the open end of the pocket; rotation means 52 for rotatably mounting the drum and the pocket to a housing 12 such that the drum is rotatable with respect to the housing about a horizontal axis; a lever 50 to partially rotate the drum and the pocket about the axis to displace the pocket between an upwardly directed inclined position and a downwardly directed inclined position; a receptacle 14 configured to contain heat transfer fluid, the receptacle being positioned such that the pocket extends into the heat transfer fluid contained in the receptacle when the pocket is arranged in the downwardly directed inclined position; a heater to heat the fluid; and an immersion means in the form of the rotating shaft 52.

In regards to claim 16, the recitation of a "vending machine" provides no structural limitations to the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ancona et al. in view of Bly.

Bly discloses the use of a cooked food container for receiving cooked food from the pockets of a cooking drum.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the device of Ancona with the cooked food container taught in Bly, in order to received cooked food for serving.

In regards to the dimensions of pocket open end and the fitting of the container over the open end, such is considered to be an operational step. It is apparent that the container taught in Bly could be placed over the opening of the Ancona pocket to receive the cooked food.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 17 is allowed.

Claims 2, 3, 9, 10 and 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 13 and 14 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
